

Witherington offers seven reasons why a same-sex marriage cannot align with Christian values. Among the reasons he lists:

 Jesus was perfectly clear—marriage is when God brings a man and a woman together who are capable of sharing a one flesh union with the possibility of fulfilling the creation order mandate—be fruitful and multiply (see Mark 10; Matt. 19).

• Jesus was equally clear in Matthew 19 that the alternative for His disciples was celibacy in singleness, to which 'being a eunuch for the kingdom' refers.

 In order to meet the requirements for being a husband according to the household codes in Colossians 3 and 4 and Ephesians 5 and 6 one must: 1) be a male; and 2) have a partner who is a member of the opposite sex. Men cannot be wives, however much they may try and play such a role, and women cannot be husbands; a relationship that involves either two men or two women produces exactly zero husbands or wives.

• Same-sex sexual activity, whether between consenting adults or through some other sort of relationship, clearly is defined as a sin in the Old Testament and the New Testament, indeed a serious sin. If this is correct, then gay marriage is a non-starter.

Witherington concludes: "At the end of the day either we realize gender matters, and gender difference is essential to a real Christian marriage, or we totally change the definition of what counts as marriage, what counts as husband and wife, what counts as mother and father biblically speaking.

"It is in no way surprising that in the most individualistic and narcissistic culture on the planet, that Americans would like to be able to choose their gender, their own biology. However, you can't do that; and because gender matters biblically speaking when it comes to Christian marriage, you also do not have biblical permission to redefine marriage, husband, wife, mother or father." #### Romans 8:18-22

<sup>18</sup> For I consider that the sufferings of this present time are not worth comparing with the glory that is to be revealed to us. <sup>19</sup> For the creation wats subjected to futility, not willingly, but because of him who subjected it, in hope <sup>20</sup> For the creation was subjected to futility, not willingly, but because of him who subjected it, in hope <sup>21</sup> that the creation itself will be set free from its bondage to corruption and obtain the freedom of the glory of the children of God.

<sup>22</sup> For we know that the whole creation has been groaning together in the pains of childbirth until now.

FROM STEPHEN'S DESK

We Will Go To Our Own "Place"

The writer Luke records that because of his transgression, the traitor Judas, "fell, that he might go to his own place" (Acts 1:25). There was no one to force him into it — he went to his own "place" of his own volition.

If we capture a worm, a beaver, or a bird and let them all go at the same time, they will each go to his own sphere or "place" – the earth, the water, and the upper atmosphere. We do not need to force them in order for them to go to their own "place."

If we hold a stone and an inflated helium balloon in our hand, letting them go at the same time, one will descend, while the other will ascend. They will only rest when they find their true "place."

Similarly, God will force no one to descend downward to hell, because He is "not willing that any should perish" (2 Peter 3:9). Thus, if we find ourselves descending downward to that "place," it will be because that is the natural course for such a character as we have willingly built for ourselves while here on earth.

Let's remember that on that golden shore, there stands a loving Lord who delights in seeing men ascend in thought and in deed to forevermore dwell with him in a "place" He has prepared (cf. 2 Corinthians 6:14-18; 2 Corinthians 10:1-6; Colossians 3:16-17; Revelation 21:3; John 14:2).

On that great judgment day, we will ascend to our own "place" the Lord has prepared for us, only if we (through our own volition) have been obedient to the will of the Father (Matthew 7:21; Romans 2:13; James 1:22; 1 Peter 1:22; cf. Joshua 24:14-15).
