White for Harvest by Doug Kashorek

“Do you not say, ‘There are yet four months, then comes the harvest’? Look, I tell you, lift up your eyes, and see that the fields are white for harvest” John 4:35.

The fields that are described as “white for harvest” are not the heads of our members as we look out over our congregations on Sunday mornings. Churches everywhere face aging populations as younger generations are not attending churches. And, of those in our pews, most have obeyed the gospel already. No, the fields are our communities.

We lament that there aren't many at 36th Street to “grow up in the church” for baby-to-believer growth, and so we've relied on transfer growth. The redistribution of sheep from one of God's pens to another is a lazy method for the Lord's church to count on. Should we compete with other churches for those already saved or hope that they just happen to walk through our doors? And, with OVU now closed, it's even more unlikely that we'll have a stream of young people settling with us who will marry and have families.

No, it's time for 36th Street in the new year to recognize that God's plan all along for churches to grow is by reaching out to the lost. Our campus sits within a harvest field of a community full of people who need to hear the gospel. It's unlikely that our field is “white for harvest” as we have not done the evangelistic or outreach work necessary to reap a harvest, but some grain may be ready for the sickle.

So, are you willing to roll up your sleeves to plant seed and to tend it so God can provide an increase (1 Corinthians 3:6)? This is more than just advertising an event and hoping some will come. The church must meet the needs in the community, so the community will want to be added to the church.
