Time of Transition

by Doug Kashorek

Perhaps we're always in a time of transition? Change is a constant part of life. As soon as a church directory is printed, it needs updating. Perhaps that's why we have a digitized directory or 3-ring binders—to keep up with the constant updating?

I've seen big changes at 36th Street in just the eleven months that I've been here. Sifting through our pictures and history has shown me this—that nothing stays the same for very long!

God is faithful, however, and is providing for us in the two years until our centennial in May 2024. And, while the memories of members, preachers, events, or programs of the past loom large on this Memorial Day Weekend, we must focus on what we say and do now to bring us into the next century of 36th Street's future.

Our work is primarily spiritual as we, like Jesus, must seek and save the lost (Luke 19:10). We have three elders committed to shepherding the flock, one minister to proclaiming the gospel, teachers to truth and developing faith in the next generation, and ... you! How are you helping 36th Street in its mission?

Secondly, our physical work acts to support our spiritual endeavors. We have deacons and others maintaining our facility and grounds and directing our work, such as our new sign or Work Day next Saturday, June 4th. Are you signed up on the clipboards in the foyer to help?

Or perhaps you could assist in our fellowship and service work: in meal or kitchen help; secretary or technology support; worship, pantry & clothing donations, or other various ministries (such as Widows Walk, the Centennial Committee, or Young at Heart) to enhance our family life and reach out into our community?

How will 36th Street come out strong in this time of transition? In the same way that it has in our previous 98 years: by its individual members working together through constant changes as the Lord's body to do His work and to shine His light in our neighborhood, the MOV, and the world.
