Happy Mother's Day

By: Doug Kashorek

What a beautiful time of year in spring that we set aside to honor the mothers among us! Many have their mothers still with them and will give them a gift of cards, flowers, jewelry, or something homemade that might end up on a refrigerator. Breakfast in bed might be attempted by some well-intentioned husbands and kids. Some will brighten their moms' day by visiting or calling!

Then there are those who have lost their mothers or the mothers of their children. For them this day can be a difficult one as memories of one who loved unconditionally in this life make this second Sunday of May every year a hard time of grief indeed. Some mark this by looking through old pictures or by visiting a graveside. We all should be mindful of those for whom this day may be a struggle and find ways to comfort them.

But finally, as we are a church family, we have many mothers among us—those who haven't given birth to us necessarily—but who have taught and nurtured us as mothers. I left a few of those up north and was blessed to find many who adopted me when I moved here. Many have remarked about how wonderful it was to gather so many women together last Sunday for a great picture. We truly are blessed here at 36th Street to have so many mothers among us!

And so, we honor all of you today for the incredible contribution you make in our lives with a carnation at our morning service and a cookout after our evening service. Thank you, and we love you all!
